Learning Objectives: At the conclusion of this presentation, participants should be able to:

1. Recognize the importance of driving for positive health outcomes in older age.
2. Identify common risk factors for unsafe driving.
3. Assess the effectiveness of interventions to reduce crash risk in older drivers.

Dr. Ball has disclosed that she has received research grant funding from NIH and is a consultant with Visual Awareness Research Group, Inc. She is a stock shareholder of Visual Awareness Research Group, Inc. and PositScience. Dr. Ball has received financial or material support from the Scientific Advisory Board – PositScience. No one else in a position to control the content of this activity has any financial relationships to disclose.

CME Information:

Accreditation: The University of Florida College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit: The University of Florida College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. The VA designates 1.0 hour of Continuing Education credit provided for its employees. Series #6125

If you have any questions regarding this seminar please contact Dr. Christy Carter at cartercs@ufl.edu